FINALISTS FOR NATIONAL TEACHER OF THE YEAR ANNOUNCED

“Alabama Teacher of the Year Katie Collins Selected as One of Five Finalists for 2026 National Teacher of the Year!”

EMBARGOED – For release 1 p.m. EST on Tuesday, January 27, 2026

Montgomery, Ala. – The Council of Chief State School Officers (CCSSO) today announced that five inspiring educators from across the country are finalists for the 2026 National Teacher of the Year.

CCSSO coordinates the National Teacher of the Year Program. Each year, states, U.S. territories, the District of Columbia, and the Department of Defense Education Activity select outstanding educators to serve as State Teachers of the Year.

From a cohort of 56 State Teachers of the Year, the National Teacher of the Year Selection Committee, comprising 15 individuals and education organizations, selected the national finalists based on applications. This year’s finalists are:

- Katie Collins, the 2026 Alabama Teacher of the Year, is a first-grade teacher at Bluff Park Elementary School in Hoover, Alabama. Collins’ Teacher of the Year bio and application available at National Teacher of the Year- Katie Collins

"I congratulate these finalists for their outstanding commitment to education and impactful teaching that advances student outcomes," said CCSSO Chief Executive Officer Carissa Moffat Miller. "Thank you to the Selection Committee for their work selecting these finalists."

The finalists will next travel to Washington D.C. and interview with the National Teacher of the Year Selection Committee, and CCSSO will announce the 2026 National Teacher of the Year this spring.

"This is an exciting announcement and our entire state is proud of Mrs. Collins and her inspiring dedication to the teaching profession," said State Superintendent of Education, Dr. Eric G. Mackey. "Alabama has some of the best and brightest educators in the country who continue to exceed all expectations. Mrs. Collins is well deserving of this tremendous achievement and this opportunity to represent our state at the national level."

The 2026 National Teacher of the Year will spend a year serving as an ambassador for education and uplifting the teaching profession.

"The 2026 National Teacher of the Year finalists exemplify the highest teaching standards, empowering students to be future problem solvers through project-based learning and community collaboration," the Selection Committee said. "Their work is rigorous and intentional, embodying everything you want to see in a finalist."
