How will the LEA determine the most important educational needs as a result of COVID-19?

District leadership team addressed issues that have occurred due to COVID-19 and addressed activities that would support the students, teachers, and families of Cullman County Schools moving forward with COVID-19. District leadership team analyzed the data of families not having Internet access, data from principals reporting the need of cleaning supplies, more thermometers, mask for faculties and possibly students. CSFO served on the leadership team reporting expenses that were used due to COVID-19. Surveys from parents and principals indicated the need for access to WIFI in rural areas and more devices for students. Reports from principals indicated the need to support the summer learning camps due to COVID-19 restrictions. See attached.

How does the LEA intend to assess and address student learning gaps resulting from the disruption in educational services?

Cullman County Schools are offering both virtual and paper packets of work to all students. We are looking at purchasing more devices and offering WIFI on buses to be parked in rural areas. Summer school/ summer camps are taking place and students have the choice of virtual or paper copies. Summer learning camp for 1st graders that were not proficient will be given the option of remediating through virtual or paper packets. Lessons have been created in subject areas with the focus on critical standards determined by the state, the new math course of study and important standards that spiral throughout the curriculum. District coaches are working with teachers to review using the instructional guides from the previous year to identify learning gaps.

How will the LEA determine the most important educational needs as a result of COVID-19?

Data indicated during COVID-19 the continuing need for related services for behavioral, occupational, and physical therapy for students with a disability. Data indicated support for specific technology devices for students that are serviced through online learning. District social workers reported the need for additional services for mental health due to students needs during COVID-19.
