ALABAMA CELEBRATES AMERICA'S MILITARY STUDENTS AND FAMILIES THIS MONTH

State Honors Military Families and Highlights Purple Star School Program

Montgomery, Ala. – The month of April is truly special – it has officially been designated as the Month of the Military Child! This national celebration is significant, because it underscores the vital and important role military families have in our nation.

The Alabama State Department of Education proudly joins the Department of Defense and America's entire military community in celebrating this wonderful event.

Our military families make many sacrifices. They ensure we continue to have the many great freedoms that we enjoy. A recent survey from the Military Child Education

Coalition reports there are nearly 1.65 million military-connected children enrolled in schools in the United States and abroad.

Sponsored by the Department of Defense Military Community and Family Policy, the Month of the Military Child is a time for all to applaud military families and students. We proudly encourage all residents of our Great State, local schools, and school districts to join us in celebrating military students and families. This school year is the official 35th Anniversary of The Month of the Military Child celebration.

Alabama's Purple Star School Program

The Alabama Purple Star Schools Program and Committee, established by the Legislative Act 2021-7, recognizes the efforts of our K-12 schools to support military students and families through their transitions into new communities and school environments.

The Purple Star School program was designed to help families mitigate the challenges of mobile-military life by setting standards, which assist students in adjusting to their new school locations.
