An Early Literacy Guide for Families

Dear Families,

The My Child Can! First Grade Booklet, developed by the Alabama State Department of Education, is a guide to help Alabama families understand the critical reading knowledge expected to be mastered at the end of First Grade by all Alabama students. We know the family is the child's first teacher in life and understand the learning needs of the child. Families are essential in setting high expectations for learning and encouraging their children's academic achievement, growth, and success! Your active participation and partnership with your child's teacher and school, along with reading support at home, is critical to his/her success in meeting the assessment standards established in Alabama.

This resource guide includes:

-  The 2021 Alabama English Language Arts (ELA) Course of Study standards.
-  An explanation of what your child can do with your help.
-  Unplugged activities your family can do.
-  Interactive resources designed for your child.
-  Resources designed to assist you in supporting your child's learning.

Oral Language Standards

Alabama ELA Course of Study Standards

1. Engage in collaborative discussions about topics and texts with peers and adults in small and large groups, utilizing agreed upon rules.
2. Actively participate in shared reading experiences and collaborative discussions to build background knowledge and learn how oral reading should sound.
3. Ask and answer questions to seek help, get information, or clarify information to confirm understanding in response to information presented in audible, text, or digital format.
4. Present information orally using complete sentences and appropriate volume.

With My Help My Child Can

1. My child can engage in collaborative discussions about topics and texts with peers and adults in small and large groups, utilizing agreed upon rules.
2. My child can actively participate in shared reading experiences and collaborative discussions to build background knowledge and learn how oral reading should sound.
3. My child can ask and answer questions to seek help, get information, or clarify information to confirm understanding in response to information presented in audible, text, or digital format.
4. My child can present information orally using complete sentences and appropriate volume.

Families Can

Encourage conversations in your home and in social settings. Every social interaction gives your child a new opportunity to practice using oral language.

Spark interactions whenever you can and support your child's language development. Ask questions, rephrase the child's answers, and give prompts that encourage the oral conversations to continue.

Maintain eye contact when your child is speaking to you and encourage your child to do the same when you are speaking, to support his/her listening skills.

Phonological Awareness/Phonemic Awareness Standards

Alabama ELA Course of Study Standards

6. Demonstrate basic to advanced phonological and phonemic awareness skills in spoken words.
  - a. Count, blend, segment, and delete syllables in spoken words, including polysyllabic words.
  - d. Blend and segment phonemes in single-syllable spoken words made up of three to five phonemes, including words with consonant blends.
  - f. Distinguish long from short vowel sounds in spoken, single-syllable words.

With My Help My Child Can

6. My child can demonstrate basic to advanced phonological and phonemic awareness skills in spoken words.
  - a. My child can count, blend, segment, and delete syllables in spoken words, including polysyllabic words.
  - d. My child can blend and segment phonemes in single-syllable spoken words made up of three to five phonemes, including words with consonant blends.
  - f. My child can distinguish long from short vowel sounds in spoken, single-syllable words.

Families Can

Robot Talk: The parent will produce individual sounds in a mystery word, pausing between each sound in a robotic manner. It is your child's job to blend the sounds together to produce the whole word.

Ex: You say, "Guess my mystery word: /s/ /l/ /i/ /p/"
Child would reply, "slip."

Hop to It: Show a picture of an object and have child say each sound and hop one time per sound.

Ex: Show a picture of a pig, child says /p/, /i/, /g/, while hopping 3 times.

Parent Note: Sounds of letters are represented inside of two bars like /m/. This representation should be read by making the sound mmmm.

FIRST GRADE Phonics Standards

Alabama ELA Course of Study Standards

7. Apply knowledge of phoneme-grapheme correspondences and word-analysis skills to decode and encode words accurately both in isolation and within decodable, grade-appropriate texts.
  - b. Decode and encode regularly-spelled, one-syllable words with closed syllables, open syllables, and vowel-consonant-e syllables, including words with blends in initial and final position.
  - j. With prompting and support, decode two-syllable words using knowledge of closed-syllables, open syllables, vowel-consonant-e syllables, vowel-r syllables, common vowel team syllable, and consonant -le syllables, including compound words that fit multiple syllable types.
  - o. Decode grade-appropriate high frequency words that are spelled using predictable, decodable phoneme-grapheme correspondences.

  - o. My child can decode grade-appropriate high frequency words that are spelled using predictable, decodable phoneme-grapheme correspondences.

Families Can

Read Decodable Texts: Decodable text is a type of text used in beginning reading instruction. Decodable texts are carefully sequenced to progressively incorporate words that are consistent with the letter-sound correspondence relationships.

Let's Cut Up! Write two syllable words on index cards. Ask your child to cut the words where the two syllables divide. The word rabbit would be cut into two parts: rab-bit.

Parent Note: Decode means read and encode means spell.

FIRST GRADE Fluency Standards

Alabama ELA Course of Study Standards

8. Apply previously-taught phoneme-grapheme correspondences to decodable words with accuracy and automaticity, in and out of context.
9. Read grade-appropriate texts with accuracy and fluency.
  - a. Read and reread grade-appropriate decodable text orally with accuracy and expression at an appropriate rate to support comprehension.
10. Read high-frequency words commonly found in grade-appropriate text.

With My Help My Child Can

8. My child can apply previously-taught phoneme-grapheme correspondences to decodable words with accuracy and automaticity, in and out of context.

  - a. My child can read and reread grade-appropriate decodable text orally with accuracy and expression at an appropriate rate to support comprehension.
10. My child can read high-frequency words commonly found in grade-appropriate text.

Families Can

Broadcast the Book: Choose an old familiar story that your child knows well. Allow him/her to reread it out loud using a pretend microphone.

Parent Paired Reading: Your child chooses a book or text that he or she can read with some degree of success. Parent and child sit side by side and read the text aloud together. Child follows the text with a finger as it is read. Parent and child create a nonverbal signal to be used when he or she wishes to “solo” read. The parent follows along silently until the child signals again for him or her to join in. If the child has trouble when reading “solo,” the parent immediately rejoins the reading, and parent and child continue reading without interruption for at least 10 minutes.

FIRST GRADE Vocabulary Standards

Alabama ELA Course of Study Standards

- Utilize new academic, content-specific, grade-level vocabulary, make connections to previously learned words, and relate new words to background knowledge.
- Ask and answer question about unfamiliar words and phrases in discussions and/or text.
  - Identify meaning parts of words (morphemes) and use them as clues to the meaning of unknown words, including frequently occurring affixes and inflections -s, -es, -ed, -ing, er, and -est.
- Use information found within the text to determine the meaning of an unfamiliar word or multiple-meaning word or phrase.

With My Help My Child Can

- My child can use information found within the text to determine the meaning of an unfamiliar word or multiple-meaning word or phrase.

Families Can

Help your child understand the meaning of unknown words and phrases by asking him/her clarifying questions:

- Have you read the sentences around the word to help you determine what the word means?
- There are two words you know in this word. Can you use them to help you understand what the word means?

Word Bubble: Create a word bubble by drawing a large circle in a middle of a piece of paper. Write a word inside the bubble that has several synonyms (words that have similar meanings such as “run/jog” or “look/gaze”). Have you child think of as many possible words that are similar in meaning to the words written on the inside of the bubble. Write those words around the outside of the bubble. Add new words to your bubble as you read future stories and acquire more words!

Families Can

Before Writing: Provide materials for writing: plenty of paper and writing tools with which to write. Talk with your child as much as possible about his or her ideas and opinions.

During Writing: Encourage your child to write, even if he or she is scribbling. Work together to label the pictures and write simple sentences.

After Writing: Turn your child's writing into a book. Tape the drawing onto construction paper. You can even use recycled cereal boxes to create a cover. Bind the book with yarn or ribbon. Ta-da!
