Introduction

The Alabama Educator Instructional Supports: English Language Arts is a companion to the 2021 Alabama Course of Study: English Language Arts for Grades K–12. Instructional supports are foundational tools that educators may use to help students become independent learners as they build toward mastery of the Alabama Course of Study content standards. Instructional supports are designed to help educators engage their students in exploring, explaining, and expanding their understanding of the content standards.

The content standards contained within the course of study may be accessed on the Alabama State Department of Education (ALSDE) website: https://www.alabamaachieves.org/. When examining these instructional supports, educators are reminded that content standards indicate minimum content—what all students should know and be able to do by the end of each grade level or course. Local school systems may have additional instructional or achievement expectations and may provide instructional guidelines that address content sequence, review, and remediation.

The instructional supports are organized by standard. Each standard’s instructional support includes the content standard, instructional outcomes, guiding questions and instructional activities, key academic terms, and additional resources.

Content Standards

The content standards are the statements from the 2021 Alabama Course of Study: English Language Arts that define what all students should know and be able to do at the conclusion of a given grade level or course. Content standards contain minimum required content and complete the phrase “Students will ______.”

Each grade-level content standard integrates, builds on, and leads to broader, more comprehensive skills. The standards collectively guide educators in preparing students with the content and skills they should know by the end of high school.

Content Areas and Subareas: Content Areas and Subareas are used to group standards that are closely related. Literacy Foundations is the content area and Phonics, Vocabulary, Comprehension, and Writing are the subareas for the Grade 4 ACAP Summative English Language Arts assessment.

Categories: The standards are further grouped into Categories. Reading, Listening, and Writing are the categories on the Grade 4 ACAP Summative English Language Arts assessment.
Instructional Outcomes

The instructional outcomes are statements that describe essential learning that students should achieve at the end of instruction.

Guiding Questions and Instructional Activities

Guiding questions are designed to create a framework for the given standard and to engage students in exploring, explaining, and expanding their understanding of the content standards provided in the 2021 Alabama Course of Study: English Language Arts. Therefore, each guiding question is written to help educators convey important concepts within the standard. By utilizing guiding questions, educators are engaging students in investigating, analyzing, and demonstrating knowledge of the underlying concepts reflected in the standard.

Each guiding question includes a representative set of sample activities and examples that can be used in the classroom. The set of activities and examples is not intended to include all the activities and examples that would be relevant to the standard. These activities will be available in Fall 2023.

Key Academic Terms

These academic terms are derived from the standard and are to be incorporated into instruction by the educator and used by the students.

Additional Resources

Additional resources are included that are aligned to the standard and may provide additional instructional support to help students build toward mastery of the designated standard. These additional resources will be available in Fall 2023. Please note that while every effort has been made to ensure all hyperlinks are working at the time of publication, web-based resources are impermanent and may be deleted, moved, or archived by the information owners at any time and without notice. Registration is not required to access the materials aligned to the specified standard. Some resources offer access to additional materials by asking educators to complete a registration. While the resources are publicly available, some websites may be blocked due to Internet restrictions put in place by a facility. Each facility's technology coordinator can assist educators in accessing any blocked content. Sites that use Adobe Flash may be difficult to access after December 31, 2020, unless users download additional programs that allow them to open SWF files outside their browsers.

Printing This Document

It is possible to use this entire document without printing it. However, if you would like to print this document, you do not have to print every page. First, identify the page ranges of the standards or domains that you would like to print. Then, in the print pop-up command screen, indicate which pages you would like to print.

1. Apply knowledge of grade-appropriate phoneme-grapheme correspondences, syllable types, and morphological structure to read unfamiliar multisyllabic words accurately, both in context and in isolation.

Instructional Outcomes:

- Identify grade-appropriate phoneme-grapheme correspondences.
- Use knowledge of grade-appropriate phoneme-grapheme correspondences to read unfamiliar multisyllabic words accurately.
- Identify syllable types in words, including closed, open, vowel-consonant-e, vowel team, r-controlled, consonant-le.
- Use knowledge of syllable types to read unfamiliar multisyllabic words accurately.
- Use knowledge of bound morpheme and free morpheme.
- Identify bound morphemes in words, including derivational affixes, inflectional affixes, and roots.
- Use knowledge of morphological structures to read unfamiliar multisyllabic words accurately.

Guiding Questions and Instructional Activities:

What is a phoneme? What is a grapheme? What is a phoneme-grapheme correspondence? What are common, grade-appropriate phoneme-grapheme correspondences? What is a multisyllabic word? How do you use phoneme-grapheme correspondences to read unfamiliar multisyllabic words accurately?

What is a syllable? What are the syllable types? How do you distinguish among the syllable types? How do you use the syllable types to read unfamiliar multisyllabic words?

What is a morpheme? What is a free morpheme? What is a bound morpheme? What is an affix? What are derivational affixes? What are inflectional affixes?
What is a root? How do you use bound morphemes such as affixes and roots to read unfamiliar multisyllabic words accurately?

Key Academic Terms:
phoneme, grapheme, syllable, syllable type, morpheme, free morpheme, bound morpheme, affix, root, morphological structure, context, isolation, multisyllabic, derivational affix, inflectional affix

Examples: dam-age, ac-tive, na-tion

Instructional Outcomes:

- Identify syllable types, including open, closed, vowel-consonant-e, r-controlled, vowel team (including diphthongs), consonant-le, and “leftovers” including odd and schwa syllables in words.

- Use syllable type(s) to decode unfamiliar multisyllabic words.

Guiding Questions and Instructional Activities:

What is a syllable? What is the open syllable type? What are examples of words with the open syllable type?

What is the closed syllable type? What are examples of words with the closed syllable type?

What is the vowel-consonant-e syllable type? What are examples of words with the vowel-consonant-e syllable type?

What is the r-controlled syllable type? What are examples of words with the r-controlled syllable type?

What is the vowel team syllable type? What is a diphthong? What are examples of words with the vowel team syllable type?

What is the consonant-le syllable type? What are examples of words with the consonant-le syllable type?
What is the “leftover” syllable type, including odd and schwa syllables? What are examples of words with the “leftover” syllable type?

How do you use syllable types to decode unfamiliar multisyllabic words?
