INTRODUCTION SECTION - A

INTRODUCTION

An accounting system is the means by which financial transactions are planned, captured during the actual operation of the school system, recorded in the books of accounts, and then analyzed to produce the various reports for management, financial status and accountability. The structure outlined in the Financial Planning, Budgeting and Reporting System for Alabama Public Schools will provide a classification structure that will meet the school systems' needs and will provide comparable data when reports from the different school systems are combined.

PURPOSE

A significant portion of the financial resources used by a school system is obtained through the exaction of private property in the form of taxes. With this seizure of property for public use comes a demand for a high degree of accountability. Poor accounting and financial reporting practices provide fuel for the critics to attack the handling of these entrusted resources. The accounting system outlined in this manual will provide the tool for the school systems in the State of Alabama to provide an accounting and financial reporting framework that will satisfy the requirements of fiscal integrity and accountability.

BASIC PHILOSOPHY

The basic philosophy of the accounting system contains criteria to support the systems' needs mentioned above.

1. The classification of accounts and the reporting structure remains in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

2. The account classification system is flexible to meet the needs of both small and large school systems while retaining comparability of collected and reported data.

3. The account structure encourages comprehensive full disclosure of the financial position of the reporting school system. Each system will incorporate all financial activities into a single accounting and reporting system and place emphasis on timely and accurate recording of financial transactions.

4. The financial reporting system emphasizes the results of the school system by using program accounting with the application of support service cost to the educational cost centers and instructional programs.

5. By use of cost center budgeting of expenditures and certain revenues, the accounting system encourages site-based management of financial resources.

6. Along with site-based management, program accounting and budgeting of revenues, the accounting systems provides the tool needed to accomplish required financial accountability reporting.

BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

The basis of accounting refers to the point of time when revenues, expenditures, and the related assets and liabilities are recognized in the accounts and reported in the financial statements. There are three(3) methods of accounting commonly used by school systems that will be explained below.

1. CASH-BASIS ACCOUNTING recognizes transactions when cash is received or disbursed. The greatest weakness of the cash basis of accounting is that it does not recognize accounts receivable, accounts payable and other accrued items. It therefore does not match resources used to resources provided.

2. MODIFIED ACCRUAL-BASIS ACCOUNTING recognizes transactions when they become both measurable and available for use or collection within the reporting fiscal period.

3. ACCRUAL-BASIS ACCOUNTING recognizes transactions when they occur, regardless of the timing of the related cash transaction.

It is recommended that modified-accrual or accrual-basis accounting be used to the fullest extent practicable. The use of these methods allows the school system to determine its financial position and results of operations by measuring financial resources and obligations at the earliest possible date and provides for comparable period-to-period reports.

CONCLUSION

Fund accounting was originally developed in response to the demand for greater financial accountability on the part of state government and local school systems. What began as a system of separate cash accounts has evolved into the current system of separate accounting for separate activities. Indeed, a school system is not considered to be a single entity for accounting and financial reporting purposes, but rather a collection of separate accounting entities for funds, cost centers, funding sources, and programs.

ACCOUNTING SYSTEM COMPONENTS

SECTION - B

ACCOUNTING SYSTEM COMPONENTS

The system component structure is designed to serve as a flexible tool to meet the needs of all school systems in the State of Alabama. It creates a common means of communication to be used in planning, recording, accumulating, controlling, and reporting the financial activities of the school systems. All school systems should uniformly utilize this component structure in order to provide comparability between school systems.

DEFINITION OF COMPONENTS

1. FUND TYPE & ACCOUNT GROUP------

There are four fund types and two account groups, which should be used to record all related financial transactions.

2. ACCOUNT TYPE-----

This one (1) digit component is used to designate the five (5) major account types used in an automated accounting system. Its use allows for a greater range of numbers and detail in the revenue and expenditure account codes.

3. ACCOUNT CODE-----

The account code component is used to designate balance sheet (assets, liabilities, and fund equity), revenue and expenditure accounts.

4. OBJECT-----

The object of expenditure component is used to classify in detail the services or commodities bought from the financial resources in the fund source from which the expenditure is being made.

5. COST CENTER------

A cost center is a budgetary or operational unit to be used in routing financial resources and segregating expenditures.

6. FUND SOURCE------

A fund source is a fiscal and accounting entity with a self-balancing set of accounts recording financial resources, related liabilities, fund equity, and changes caused by the receipt of revenues and the expenditure of funds. This component is used to maintain "fund accounting" in accordance with Section 1300 of the Codification of Governmental Accounting and Financial Reporting Standards published by GASB.

7. APPROPRIATION YEAR-----

The appropriation year component is used to assist with processing activities that are to be routed to specific funding years.

8. PROGRAM------

A program is a plan of activities and procedures designed to accomplish a predetermined objective or set of objectives. The use of this component allows certain support service cost to both the program and the function of expenditure to be classified concurrently.

9. SPECIAL USE-----

The special use component can be used to obtain a greater breakdown of any other of the components used in the accounting entity. It should be used only when restrictions on other components do not allow for their adaptation or modification.

FUND TYPE & ACCOUNT GROUP COMPONENT SECTION - C

FUND TYPE & ACCOUNT GROUP COMPONENT

A fund type is defined as a fiscal and accounting entity with one(1) or more fund sources containing a self balancing set of accounts recording financial resources, related liabilities, fund equity, and changes caused by the receipt of revenues and the expenditure of funds. An account group is an accounting entity with a self-balancing set of account records of general fixed assets and general long-term debts.

This two (2)-digit code in the accounting system component structure will identify the major fund types or account group classification and the specific individual fund type or account group.

Accounting transactions are recorded into four (4) major classifications:

GOVERNMENTAL FUND TYPES PROPRIETARY FUND TYPES FIDUCIARY FUND TYPES ACCOUNT GROUPS

These four (4) major classifications are divided into the following categories, called fund types and account groups. The fund type to be used is determined by the nature and purpose of the revenue to be recorded. The revenue section of this manual will be used to indicate the desired fund type to be used to record the transaction related to the revenue source.

GOVERNMENTAL FUND TYPES (10-19)
General	11
Special Revenue	12
Debt Service	13
Capital Projects	14
PROPRIETARY FUND TYPES	(20-29)
Enterprise	21
Internal Service	22
FIDUCIARY FUND TYPES	(30-40)
Trust	(30-34)
Non-expendable Trust	31
Expendable Trust	32
Agency	(35-49)
Payroll Clearing	38
Accounts Payable Clearing	39
Other Agency	40
ACCOUNT GROUPS	(80-89)
General Fixed Asset	88
General Long-Term Debt	89

DEFINITIONS FOR FUND TYPE & ACCOUNT GROUP CODES

The accounting system for schools should be organized and operated on a fund (fund source) basis. Each fund (fund source) must be so accounted for that the identity of its resources, obligations, revenues, expenditures, and fund equities is continually maintained. Only the minimum number of funds (fund sources) consistent with legal and operating requirements should be established since unnecessary funds (fund sources) result in inflexibility, undue complexity, and inefficient financial administration. The fund type component is to be used to group these funds (fund sources) into major classifications.

GOVERNMENTAL FUND TYPES

These fund types are the segment of the accounting system through which most school system functions are typically financed. The reporting focus of these fund types is to determine financial position through the recording of changes caused by the receipt of revenues and the expenditure of resources rather than determining net income or loss.

GENERAL

This fund type accounts for all financial resources of the school system except those required to be accounted for in another fund type. The primary operating functions of a local school system are performed in the general fund type. EXAMPLE: Foundation Program Funds: 11-X-XXXX-XXXX-1110-X-XXXX-XXXX

SPECIAL REVENUE

This fund type accounts for the proceeds of specific revenue sources that are legally restricted to expenditures for specific purposes except those required to be accounted for in some other predetermined fund type. The integrity of the individual special revenue will be maintained by the use of the Fund Source component.

The State Department of Education will identify the state revenue sources requiring special revenue status. Most federal grant appropriations will be maintained as special revenues, especially where separate budgeting and financial reporting is required at the state or federal level. Any local revenue sources requiring special revenue status will be determined by the local school system, using the guidelines contained in this section of the manual.

EXAMPLE: Title I Funds: 12-X-XXXX-XXX-XXX-4510-X-XXXX-XXXX

DEBT SERVICE

This fund type accounts for the accumulation of resources for the payment of general long-term debt, both principal and interest.

When financial resources are legally required to be set aside in a sinking fund to meet current and(or) future principal and interest obligations of a school system's general long-term debt, the debt service fund type should be used to account for these obligations and resources. Not all long-term debt obligations and resources are required to be recorded in a debt service fund type. Only long-term obligations involving a third party or paying agent should be recorded in this fund type. Capital leases, lease purchases and other intermediate term leases can be budgeted and accounted for within the fund type creating the obligation and supplying the resources for the payments of principal and interest.

The special reporting components of the accounting system are to be used to maintain the integrity of each debt service occurrence within the debt service fund type. EXAMPLE: Debt from Local Tax Fund: 13-X-XXXX-XXXX-6030-X-XXXX-XXXX

CAPITAL PROJECT

This fund type accounts for financial resources used to acquire or construct major capital facilities other than those of proprietary and trust fund.

When financial resources are obtained through borrowing or contributions for the purpose of acquiring and (or) constructing major capital facilities, a capital project fund type should be used to record transactions related to the accumulation and expenditure of these financial resources.

The special reporting components of the accounting system are to be used to maintain the integrity of each project's financial resources within the capital project fund type. EXAMPLE: PSF - Capital Projects: 14-X-XXXX-XXXX-XXXX-2120-X-XXXX-XXXX

This fund type is used to account for school system activities that are similar to business operations in the private sector, or where the reporting focus is on determining net income, financial position and cash flows and when the activity is to be self supporting.

It is recommended that proprietary fund types be used when the school system conducts business type activities that receive a significant portion of their financial resources through user charges.

ENTERPRISE

This fund type accounts for operations that are financed and operated in a manner similar to private business enterprises where the stated intent is that the cost, including expenses for depreciation and indirect cost of providing goods or services to students or the general public on a continuing basis are financed or recovered primarily through user charges. NOTE: Enterprise fund types are fee supported.

The special reporting components of the accounting system are to be used to maintain the integrity of each project's financial resources within the enterprise fund type. EXAMPLE: Summer School Fund: 21-X-XXXX-XXXX-6922-XXXX-XXXX

This fund type accounts for the operation of school system functions that provide goods or services to other school system functions, other school systems, or other governmental units on a cost-reimbursable basis. NOTE: Internal Service fund types are supported by user charges.

The chief aim of an internal service fund type is cost reimbursement. Therefore, an internal service fund type should only be used if the school system intends to recover the full cost of providing the service through user charges.

The fund source component of the accounting system is to be used to maintain the integrity of each project's financial resources within the internal service fund type. EXAMPLE: Print Shop Fund: 22-X-XXXX-XXX-SAXX-6999-XXXX-XXXX

FIDUCIARY

This fund type is used to account for assets held by the school system as trustee or agent. Expendable trust fund sources are accounted for in essentially the same manner as governmental fund sources. Non-expendable trust fund sources are accounted for in essentially the same manner as proprietary fund sources. Agency fund sources are purely custodial (assets equal liabilities) and thus do not involve measurements of results of operations.

TRUST

This fund source accounts for assets held by a school system in a trustee capacity for individuals, private organizations, other governmental units, and/or other fund types.

Non-expendable Trust

This fund type accounts for financial assets held in trust for some specified purpose in which only the investment earnings on the asset, not the asset itself, may be expended. When the financial resources held in trust by the school system are for a specified purpose and the school system is permitted to spend only the earnings of the assets held, the non-expendable trust fund type should be used to account for such endowment arrangements.

The fund source component of the accounting system is to be used to maintain the integrity of each endowment's financial resources within the non-expendable trust fund type.

EXAMPLE: Education Trust: 31-X-XXXX-XXX-XXXX-6940-XXXX-XXXX

Expendable Trust

This fund type accounts for financial assets held in trust for some specified purpose where the trust fund is designed to provide stewardship over the expendable asset. An expendable trust fund type functions similar to a governmental fund type. When the financial resources held in trust by the school system are for a specified purpose and the school system is permitted to spend all the assets and earnings of the trust, the expendable trust fund type should be used to account for such endowment arrangements.

The fund source component of the accounting system is to be used to maintain the integrity of each endowment's financial resources within the expendable trust fund type.

EXAMPLE: Scholarship Fund: 32-X-XXXX-XXX-XXXX-6940-XXXX-XXXX

AGENCY

This fund type accounts for assets held solely in a custodial capacity. Accordingly, assets in agency fund types are always matched by liabilities to the owners of those assets. Agency fund sources do not report operations and use only balance sheet accounts.

When a school system plays a limited role in the collecting or temporarily holding of financial resources on behalf of some third party, an agency fund type should be used to account for these resources

EXAMPLES: If the school system uses clearing funds for the payroll and accounts payable transactions, the fund type codes 38 for the Payroll Clearing and 39 for the Accounts Payable Clearing have been assigned by the State.

ACCOUNT GROUPS

Sets of accounts used to record and control the school systems' general fixed assets and unmatured general long-term liabilities are organized in account groups. Account groups are not funds and do not report operations since they do not contain revenue or expenditure accounts. They are simply lists of the accumulated cost/values of fixed assets and obligations of long-term debt of the school system. Changes to these fixed assets and long-term debt are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements rather than in an operating statement.

GENERAL FIXED ASSET

The general fixed asset account group is used to record the cost of all property, plant and equipment, other than those accounted for in the proprietary or non-expendable trust fund types.

EXAMPLE: An account group number 88 should be used to record the general fixed assets of the school system. This account group will be used as a control account for reporting the accumulated cost/values of the fixed assets of land, land improvements, buildings, building improvements, equipment, construction in progress, capital leases and other fixed assets.

NOTE: Additional fixed assets accumulated during the year should be included in the Financial Statements annually and any items destroyed, lost or stolen should be deleted annually. An itemized list should be maintained each year of changes in the fixed assets.

GENERAL LONG-TERM DEBT

The general long-term debt account group is used to record the unmatured principal amount of all long-term liabilities excluding those of Proprietary and Fiduciary funds.

EXAMPLE: An account group number 89 should be used to record the general long-term debt of the school system. This account group will be used to report the outstanding principal balance of the long-term debt for the obligations of bonds, warrants, warrant anticipation notes, capital leases, and compensated absences.

SECTION - D

ACCOUNT TYPE COMPONENT

The account type component is used in conjunction with the account code component to identify the five (5) major account types used in an automated accounting system. BALANCE SHEET ACCOUNTS

SECTION - E-1

BALANCE SHEET ACCOUNTS

Balance sheet accounts are required for fund sources that require year-end reconciliation and/or are allowed to carry over balances to the following fiscal year. Most State and Federal revenues require balance sheet accounts for each individual revenue or fund source in order to maintain a complete set of accounts for "fund accounting" purposes.

Balance sheet accounts are organized and classified by the following account code groups:

ASSETS	0100-0199
LIABILITIES	0200-0299
FUND EQUITY	0300-0399

FUNCTIONS OF EXPENDITURE ACCOUNT CODES

SECTION - E-3

FUNCTION OF EXPENDITURE ACCOUNT CODES

The Function of Expenditure account codes describe the activities being performed for which a service or material object is acquired. In determining the function code, attention should be focused on the specific activity being performed and not the program which will be benefited. See the definition of program codes to further distinguish these two separate codes.

Note: Policy on Capitalization or Expensing of Software Cost

Generally, software should not be capitalized and thus should not be included in the General Fixed Asset Account Group. In some instances, computer hardware and software are purchased as a package and the specific costs for hardware and software are inseparable. In such case, the total cost should be capitalized and included in the General Fixed Asset Account Group. Another exception to the above rule pertains to those costs incurred to purchase or develop computer software products that are to be used for producing income. FAS-86 requires the costs related to income-producing software to be capitalized and included in the Board's General Fixed Asset Account Group.

DEFINITIONS OF FUND SOURCE CODES

A fund source code is required to be used, along with the appropriation code, on all transactions to maintain "fund accounting".

In each of the following major fund source codes the specific revenue code can be obtained from the revenue section of this manual. However, a number of revenues may be accounted for in a single fund source if separate "fund accounting" is not required for that particular revenue.

0000	NO FUND SOURCE REQUIRED This code can be used when no revenue accounts are used in a set of accounts. Examples of this type of transaction occur in the Agency Fund types and the Account Groups for General Fixed Assets and Long-Term Debt
1000-2999	STATE SOURCES This range of fund source codes should be used when state revenues require "fund accounting". Most State revenues require "fund accounting " and balance sheet accounts for each individual revenue.
	2901 Other State Revenue Default This code should be used for transactions when no fund source tracking is desired or required for the state revenue(s).
	NOTE: Call the State Department of Education to confirm when fund accounting must be maintained for any state revenue.
3000-5999	FEDERAL SOURCES This range of fund source codes should be used when federal revenues require "fund accounting". Most Federal revenues require "fund accounting " and balance sheet accounts for each individual revenue.
5101	USDA/Child Nutrition Source Default This code should be used for transactions when no fund source tracking is required for the USDA/Child Nutrition revenue(s).
5991	Federal Source Default This code should be used for transactions when no fund source tracking is required for the federal revenue(s). Most Federal revenues require "fund accounting" and balance sheet accounts for each individual revenue.
	NOTE: Call the State Department of Education to confirm when fund accounting must be maintained for any federal revenue.
6000-7999	LOCAL SOURCES

This range of fund source codes should be used when "fund accounting" is desired or required for any local revenue(s).

6001	Local Source Default This code should be used for transactions when no fund source tracking is desired or required for the local revenue(s).
7101 7501	Local School Public Funds Default Local School Non-Public Funds Default
8000-8999	OTHER SOURCES This range of fund source codes should be used when "fund accounting" is desired or required for other revenue(s) source(s).
8001	Other Source Fund Source Default This code should be used for transactions when no fund source tracking is desired or required for the Intermediate revenue(s).
9000-9997	OTHER FINANCING SOURCES This range of fund source codes should be used when "fund accounting" is desired or required for other financing revenue(s) source(s).

APPROPRIATION YEAR COMPONENT SECTION - I

Revised: May 8, 2025

APPROPRIATION YEAR COMPONENT

An appropriation year code is a one(1) digit code used in the component structure to identify and classify balance sheet, revenue and expenditure accounts by the grant and(or) appropriation year within the current fiscal year.

The major codes defined by the State are as follows:

Current Year Appropriations	0
LEA Carryover Appropriations	1
July - September (Federal) Appropriations	2
Prior Year State Appropriation Encumbrances	9

DEFINITIONS AND PROCEDURES FOR APPROPRIATION YEAR CODES

Appropriation year codes are used in conjunction with the fund source code to identify the appropriation year, grant year and(or) fiscal year to which the account or transaction is to be reported. The primary objective of this code is to provide a means of reporting state and federal grants by appropriation year. This is especially valuable when multiple appropriation and grant year transactions occur within the same fiscal year.

All balance sheet, revenue, and expenditure transactions must reference the appropriate fund source and appropriation year code from the charts listed in this manual. Most accounting transactions will reference the current fiscal year appropriations code. However, special revenue fund transactions in which most federal grant programs are maintained must use the appropriate grant year code if the transaction relates to a carryover or prior year appropriation.

Current Year Appropriations:

Appropriations of grant funds obligated during the fiscal year October through September of the first year of availability.

LEA Carryover Appropriations:

Appropriations of grant funds or other project resources with a life of two consecutive years that is carried over by school systems and accounted for in the second year of availability.

July-September Federal Appropriations:

Appropriations of grant funds which become available July 1 of each year and are obligated from July through September prior to the beginning of the school systems' fiscal year.

Prior Year State Appropriation Encumbrances:

State appropriations encumbered during the year in which funds were available and actually become expenditures in the following fiscal year.

PROGRAM CODE COMPONENT

SECTION - J

PROGRAM CODE COMPONENT

A program is a plan of activities and procedures designed to accomplish a predetermined objective or set of objectives. The program code component allows local education agencies to charge program costs, instructional and support, directly to the benefiting program. For example, special education transportation costs are recorded to the support services function "Transportation", even though they should be charged directly to the Special Education program. For "Regular Education" programs, this component allows for costs to be recorded by grade level or subject areas.

The four(4) digit program code in the accounting system will identify the following major categories:
